REPORT REBELS AT TEHUANTEPEC

State Department Hears Town Is Captured and Salina Cruz Threatened.

News was received at the State Department late yesterday afternoon that Mexican rebels have captured the town of Tehuantepec on the southern slope of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, and are threatening the port of Salina Cruz. These rebels, operating in the state of Oaxaca, have declared their intention of setting up an independent government pending the establishment of a strong central authority at Mexico City. The possession of Salina Cruz would give them a much-needed outlet. There are only a few Americans residing there. The department was in receipt of disturbing reports from Northern Mexico. It is expected that in refusing Carranza's demand for withdrawal of American forces, the reply will lay stress on these demonstrations as proving the inability of the de facto government to control the situation in Northern Mexico. Officials said the reply would probably be sent next week.

PULLMAN WARNS AGAINST CROOKS

Police Plan to Safeguard Citizens During Preparedness Parade.

A safety-first warning to citizens against pickpockets and confidence men during the big preparedness parade on Wednesday, was issued last night by Maj. Pullman, superintendent of police. After announcing that the police chiefs of Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York have offered to send their best detectives to Washington on the day of the parade, Maj. Pullman said: "Unfortunately, there is always a number of persons who make it easy for pickpockets to work, particularly men who carry their pocketbooks in the hip pocket, so four in every five men do. The easiest thing in the world to steal is a pocket-book from a hip pocket."

The Major said that at a meeting of the police order committee at the Willard tomorrow night a general warning will be issued. Police Commissioner Woods, of New York, notified the Major yesterday that he would send Lieut. Richard McKenna and Detective Serg. B. Cassassa, two of his best men, to Washington for the parade.

Protect Residence Districts.

Maj. Pullman also is making special plans for the protection of the residential sections during the parade. Plain clothes men will patrol the residence precincts in automobiles. "Householders are warned," said Maj. Pullman, "to leave either their own or a trusted servant in charge of the house when they go to view the parade. Maj. Pullman will be glad to have automobile owners loan their machines to the police."

Flag day and the preparedness parade will be touched on by many clergymen in their sermons today. Henry W. Sampson, chairman of the Board of Trade Committee on the protection of the flag, has asked every pastor to read the opinion of the late Justice Harlan, of the United States Supreme Court, on the flag in the Nebraska flag case. The opinion read in part as follows: "To every true American the flag is the symbol of the nation's power; the emblem of freedom in its truest, best sense. It is not extravagant to say that to all lovers of the country it is the symbol of the government, liberty, law, the protection of the weak against the strong; security against the exercise of arbitrary power, and absolute safety for free institutions against foreign aggression."

Following the action of the Board of Education in deciding to close the schools on the day of the parade, the committee yesterday began the organization of a school children's unit. It made an appeal to all parents to allow their boys and girls to march. The organizers of the big Baltimore unit paid a visit to Gov. Harrington, of Maryland, yesterday to invite him to lead them in the Washington parade.

RAIN DRIVES CARABAO INSIDE FOR "WALLOW"

Local Corral Holds Eighth Annual Celebration at Army and Navy Club.

In spite of the fact that the carabao is an amphibious animal, with an instinct to take to water whenever he sees it, the paramount carabao of the Washington Corral poked his head out onto the roof of the Army and Navy Club last night and decided that the eighth annual wallow of his celebrated herd, otherwise known as the Military Order of the Carabao, would take place inside out of the way.

This unfortunate interruption of the original program now dampened the enthusiasm of the wallowers, however, it being possible at times to get wet without venturing into the rain. The eighth annual wallow, worthily carried out by the illustrious traditions of its predecessors, among those who helped it to do so were Maj. Gen. Arthur Murray, U. S. A.; Brig. Gen. J. L. Clem, U. S. A.; Brig. Gen. E. A. Godwin, U. S. A.; Paymaster General Samuel McLean, U. S. N.; Pay Director M. C. McDonald, U. S. N.; George U. H. Usher, Commodore J. C. Gilmore, U. S. N.; Col. H. P. Kingsbury, U. S. A.; Ord. Preston, Maj. G. P. Ahearn, U. S. A.; William Skinner, Dr. J. K. Haywood, Capt. M. C. McLean, U. S. N.; Major Thompson, H. D. Johnson, Capt. W. B. Baker, U. S. A.; Commander H. W. Steele, U. S. N.; Surgeon R. C. Holcomb, U. S. N.; Capt. W. H. Point, U. S. A.; Surgeon P. S. Taylor, U. S. A.; Naval Constructor William McEntee, U. S. N.; George O'Connor, Maj. J. M. Heller, U. S. V.; Surgeon P. M. Johnson, U. S. N.; George Bentley, Commander H. G. Z. Dingler, U. S. N.; Capt. Cabell, U. S. N.; Maj. J. R. Smith, U. S. A.; Capt. A. W. Ferry, U. S. A.; J. M. Chamberlain, Maj. L. P. Williams, U. S. A.; and Capt. Harry N. Coates, U. S. A.
